Ardian and iCapital Expand Distribution of Ardian Access Evergreen Strategies Through Leading Global Fund Platforms

Long-standing partnership supports broader, low-friction access to Ardian's private markets strategies for the global wealth channel.

Ardian, a global private investment firm, and iCapital¹, the global fintech company shaping the future of investing, today announced the continued expansion of their partnership with the broader availability of the Ardian Access SICAV suite of evergreen² private markets strategies³ through leading global fund platforms, including Allfunds, Clearstream and Euroclear Fundsplace.

Building on a partnership that began in 2022, Ardian and iCapital have worked closely to design, structure, service and distribute evergreen investment solutions that support long-term portfolio construction for wealth investors. The latest expansion further reflects a shared ambition to expand access to private markets while maintaining operational efficiency, scalability and enhanced investor experience across distribution channels.

Through availability on Allfunds, Clearstream and Euroclear Fundsplace, the Ardian Access strategies can now be accessed via established platform workflows and custody environments already used by wealth managers and advisors globally. This approach allows Ardian and iCapital to meet growing demand from the wealth channel while reducing operational friction and integration complexity for distributors and end investors.

Launched in partnership with iCapital, Ardian Access provides evergreen exposure to Ardian's private equity and infrastructure capabilities. iCapital structures and services the strategies and provides end to end lifecycle support, leveraging its integrated technology and operating capabilities to streamline onboarding, administration and the ongoing investor experience for wealth managers and advisors.
